

Johnson Victory Predicted

60.8 Per Cent Of Votes Seen In LBJ's Favor

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long, strident election campaign comes to a close today with every indicator of a computerized, poll-conscious era pointing toward victory for President Johnson.

In 27 hours of elapsed time, beginning at 12:01 a.m. EST Tuesday in some New England towns and winding up with the closing of polls in western Alaska, some 70 million Americans will choose a president, 25 governors, 435 House members and 35 senators.

Although he made no predictions on the extent of the victory he confidently expects, President Johnson obviously hoped he would roll up more than the century's record 60.8 per cent of the vote registered for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936. This would give him a massive victory in the 538-vote Electoral College.

GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater was predicting the "upset of the century" would make him the winner despite the poll indicators against any such result. Privately his aides were conceding only Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Alaska and Hawaii to President Johnson.

Aides of Johnson said they had given up only on Mississippi and Alabama. They believe they have a chance to carry every other state, including Johnson's native Texas and Goldwater's native Arizona.

The two standard bearers make final televised bids for votes tonight.

Insurance On Council's Meet Agenda

City Council meets in regular session at 7:30 tonight at City Hall with formal approval of a new firm to handle hospitalization insurance for city employees expected to be one item on the agenda.

The Prudential Insurance Company, represented locally by Marjorie Garansson, has been tentatively awarded the hospitalization contract in action taken Monday night, Oct. 26, when the City Council met in private caucus. Miss Garansson has already been contacting city employees in regard to the change in insurance policies, it is reported.

Councilman Robert Bader brought up the hospitalization insurance matter on Oct. 5 when he reported he felt local agents should have an opportunity to bid on the coverage, which had been provided up to that time by Business Men's Assurance Company of Kansas City. Bader said at that time he had no quarrel with the BMA firm "if they have the low bid."

City employees report, however, that the new insurance policy means an increased charge of 23 cents.

Whether or not the CATV issue will come before the council tonight is unclear. Several members of the council recently paid a visit to Manhattan, Kan., where a cable antenna system is in operation, but they have not commented publicly about their findings.

Mayor L. L. Studer said today that the council also has invitations to visit CATV installations at Eldorado, Ark.; Iola, Kan.; and Falls City, Neb.

Three applications for rezoning approved Saturday night by the Zoning and Planning Commission are scheduled to be brought before the council tonight. The zoning commission approved applications of Tom E. Ware for a change from R-1 to C-0 for a piece of his property and a change from R-3 to C-1 for E. Davis Allen and Mattie E. Allen for property located at 121 East Jefferson.

Another rezoning application previously tabled by the commission was approved Saturday night. This was the application of Dr. A. J. Campbell for a change from R-1 to C-0 on property located at 617 East 13th Street. The new C-0 zoning provides for non-retail offices, in the main for professional men.

Bullet From the Sky

A bullet fell from the sky and cracked a window in a Sedalia home Sunday afternoon, but police were unable to determine where the slug came from.

Nathalia Poynter, 809 West Seventh, notified police at 4:40 p.m. the bullet had broken an east bedroom window. Officers found the bullet—a .38 caliber—on the window sill.

Police said the bullet had apparently been fired from a distance, had spent itself in its upward travel and broke the window during its fall.

Passenger As Killer Of Pilot

Airliner Crash Ruling By CAB Blames Congales

WASHINGTON (AP)—A passenger deeply in debt and insured for $105,000 pumped bullets into the two pilots of an airliner during a flight last May, the Civil Aeronautics Board said today. The plane crashed into a low California hill, killing 44 persons.

As the Pacific Air Lines plane was going down, a high-pitched voice cried into its radio system:

"Skippers shot! We're been shot I was try 'in ta help'" (sic).

The somewhat garbled message, recorded on tape and made public earlier, was the last word from the plane before it crashed and exploded.

In reporting today on its investigation of the tragedy, the CAB said that its crash experts, working with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, had concluded that the probable cause of the May 7 crash was "the shooting of the captain and the first officer by a passenger," Francisco Gonzales, 27.

Gonzales was a native of the Philippines who was working for a San Francisco department store. Along with his 40 fellow passengers and three crew members, he died in the crash near San Ramon—only 21 miles from the Oakland Airport. The plane was bound from Reno, Nev., to San Francisco.

The CAB said Gonzales bought a revolver and ammunition on the evening of May 6, showed the gun to numerous friends, told one of them he intended to shoot himself, told others he would die May 6 or 7. It also said he bought insurance policies at the airport. Their total: $105,000.

The Weather

Fair to partly cloudy and continued mild tonight. Low tonight mid to upper 50s. Increasing cloudiness and mild Tuesday with high in 70s.

The temperature Monday was 61 at 7 a.m., and 72 at noon. Low Sunday night was 59.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 60, low 28; two years ago, high 52, low 40; three years ago, high 70, low 55.

Lake of Ozark stage: 54.4 feet; 5.6 below full reservoir; no change.

Trooper Bruce Serves As Link In Mercy Flight

Trooper R. L. Bruce, Sedalia, Missouri Highway Patrol, was a link Sunday in a 600-mile, hour-and-a-half mercy flight, to deliver an eye cornea transplant from Detroit, Mich., to a patient at the University of Missouri Medical Center, Columbia.

The eye, flown by Capt. Kermit Eberly, 171st Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron, Michigan Air National Guard, from Detroit, was from Henry Ford Hospital eyebank.

Eberly began the trip in a T-33 jet trainer, whose engine blew a turbine blade 20 minutes out of Detroit. The pilot returned to the base and, after an hour-and-a-half delay, took off on a direct heading to Whiteman. Officials gave special permission for Eberly to by-pass regular bends and headings of airway navigational aids, to allow a straight flight to Whiteman.

Eberly landed at Whiteman Air Force Base, where he handed the ice-packed eye to Bruce. Troopers Robert Hampton and David Terhune, also of the Missouri patrol, rendezvoused with Bruce on the way to Columbia and relayed the transplant to the medical center.

Illegal Deer Hunters Fined At Versailles

VERSAILLES, Mo. (AP)—Andrew Chapman of Dixon and Arthur Shimp of Stover pleaded guilty in Magistrate Court Saturday to hunting deer after dark and were fined $200 each and six months in jail.

Agent Max Middleton of the State Conservation Commission said the men had no deer, but he observed them southwest of Versailles equipped to hunt at night.

Bigger War In Viet Nam 'Talked Up'

Communist Raid On Us Air Base Stirs Up Issue

Communist raid on a U.S. air base near Saigon early Sunday has stirred up new talk here of enlarging the war in South Viet Nam.

U.S. officials said today that events seem to be moving toward a confrontation between the United States and Communist North Viet Nam, backed by Red China, on the issue of security and peace in Southeast Asia.

The whole situation seems certain to get urgent attention from President Johnson and his top military and diplomatic advisers in the weeks following Tuesday's presidential election. Officials said the course the war actually takes in the weeks ahead will depend primarily on decisions to be made by North Viet Nam and Red China.

If the Communists decide to step up their support for the Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam, these officials said, there is every prospect of very serious trouble ahead.

If they choose not to increase their efforts, it was said, the United States probably will follow about the same basic policy it has in the past—that is, supporting within South Viet Nam the efforts of that country's leaders to gain the upper hand in the long struggle with the Viet Cong rebels.

Khrushchev Said To Have Sclerosis

Denmark's Party Leader Reports On Moscow Visit

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Denmark's Communist party leader returned from Moscow today and said he understands Nikita Khrushchev is suffering from sclerosis.

Knud Jespersen, chairman of the Danish Communist party, added that the former Soviet premier is not receiving visitors because of his illness.

Jespersen made his remarks in a radio interview shortly before holding a news conference to announce the results of his fact-finding mission to the Soviet capital.

The dictionary definition of sclerosis is: "induration (hardening) produced in an organ by increase of its interstitial connective tissue; also degenerative replacement of tissues of the spinal cord or brain by neuroglia (tissue which fills the interstices and supports the essential elements of nervous tissue, especially in the brain, spinal cord and ganglia)." Khrushchev is 70.

Jespersen was vague on the precise nature and gravity of Khrushchev's reported illness. He described it only as sclerosis, a term which is medically very broad.

The most severe form of this disease is disseminated sclerosis, which damages the brain and can lead to total paralysis. Other milder forms of sclerosis reduce control over physical movements, a Danish medical authority said.

Jespersen was one among many leaders of Communist parties in Europe who went to Moscow to find out what was behind Khrushchev's ouster last month. The first reason given out in Moscow was that the Communist party Central Committee and the Supreme Soviet Presidium "granted N.S. Khrushchev's request to be relieved of his duties because of his advanced age and deteriorating health."

To most who had seen him just prior to his descent into oblivion he had appeared in fairly rugged health.

Later, however, the word began to spread that Khrushchev had been ousted because of bad handling of the Cuban affair, Soviet agriculture, the dispute with the Chinese Communists.

Whether the word that Jespersen brought from Moscow was intended to back away toward the original line could not be determined at once.

Big Crowd For Tempo Store Opening

Several hundred Sedalians were on hand at the opening Monday morning of the first store in the Thompson Hills shopping center.

Tempo, a division of Gamble-Skogmo, was the first store to open and Mayor L. L. Studer snipped the ribbon in a formal ceremony.

Among those present were E. W. Thompson, Sedalia developer; Ken Evans, general contractor, St. Louis; Clarence Johnson, district manager for Tempo Stores; Kermit Lange, Tempo manager and Sam Boyle, executive manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

A steady flow of traffic wound its way into the huge shopping center parking lot throughout the day and at the 10 a.m. ceremonies, the lot was filled with cars. The new store, with some 30,000 square feet of space, got the once-over from an enthusiastic group of Sedalians.

The next stores to open in the shopping center are Katz, next Monday, and Consumers Market in the near future.

Rule Missing Man Had Natural Death

THAYER, Mo. (AP)—A coroner's jury, summoned soon after the body of Hogan Stevens was found Sunday, ruled the 79-year-old farmer died of natural causes. Stevens had been missing since Oct. 16.

AMMAN, JORDAN — Crown Prince Faisal (top) has replaced his brother King Saud (bottom) as King of Saudi Arabia. Faisal had been Prime Minister for a number of years and his assumption of the throne was not unexpected. King Saud has been in poor health and was considered no longer capable of handling the affairs of the oil-rich desert kingdom. Faisal is regarded as more modern and progressive in his social and political views. (UPI Telephoto)

East Germans Open Gate For Oldsters

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The Communists for the first time let large numbers of East Germans visit the West today for tearful reunions with relatives. The visitors are old persons who no longer work.

The first group of pensioners arrived by train in central Germany from Leipzig shortly after midnight. During the next year as many as 3.2 million of them are expected to enter West Germany in the largest East-West crossing since the Iron Curtain came down at the end of World War II.

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht approved "Operation Oldster" last August in an apparent bid to improve relations with the Lutheran Church, which reportedly suggested the visits. The East German press hailed the arrangement as proof of the Communist regime's "humanitarian attitude."

The pensioners, men over 65 and women over 60, had permission to remain in the West a month. The Red regime did not appear concerned over the possibility of defections, presumably because the old people are no longer a factor in East German production.

Previously, elderly East Germans were permitted to leave only if they renounced their pension payments. Now if they defect they can get West German pensions. West German officials said all who wanted it would be given asylum, but no official effort would be made to get any to defect.

Residents at Wolsburg, the first train stop in West Germany, greeted the tired but happy travelers from Leipzig. Red Cross nurses gave them refreshments.

Meanwhile, hundreds of thousands of West Berliners are going through the wall to visit relatives in the Soviet sector of divided Berlin. Nearly 100,000 with the necessary permits made the crossing Sunday.

Prince Faisal Arabian King

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Saudi Arabia's King Saud was dethroned today and his brother, Crown Prince Faisal, was proclaimed king of the oil-rich desert state, Mecca Radio announced.

Information Minister Jamil Al Jujailan read a statement over Mecca Radio saying Cabinet ministers and religious consultative council, in joint session this morning, approved the dethronement of Saud, 62, and the proclamation of Faisal, 61, as the third monarch of Saudi Arabia.

The broadcast announced after the minister's statement that Faisal had accepted the decision.

The broadcast said nothing about Saud's future plans, but reports circulating in the Arab world the past few days said the ailing ex-monarch, who had been king since his father's death in 1953, may go to live somewhere in Europe.

Reports of the impending change had swept the Arab world for several days in the wake of meetings of princes and religious leaders in Saudi Arabia.

Faisal was real ruler of the country since ailing King Saud was forced from power in late 1962.

According to reports in Beirut and Cairo, Saud's health has deteriorated gravely in the past few months, so that fears have been felt for his survival. In this situation, to avoid any new power struggle between factions in Saudi Arabia, Faisal was urged to take the throne.

Informants in Beirut, who recently returned from Saudi Arabia said ailing Saud will be free to keep his royal allowance and go to a European capital, possibly Vienna.

If he wishes to remain in Saudi Arabia, he will be permitted to do so, they added, but with almost no contact with anyone.

Saud has been treated in Switzerland and the United States in recent years for eye trouble, a stomach ulcer, high blood pressure and general debility.

Saud was a generous spender during his reign and Faisal objected to it. Saud had fleets of American limousines, rented out entire hotels on his trips abroad and often bestowed gold watches on airline hostesses.

Faisal, a reformer, claimed that Saud was too lavish with Saudi Arabia's oil income and that the money should be poured into projects to improve the lot of the nation's six million people.

Some Offices Close On Election Day

Election day Tuesday will bring about the normal suspension of business in Sedalia.

Public offices on the city, county, state and federal level will be closed and driver's license examinations normally conducted at the county courthouse will not be given. Bars and taverns will not be serving intoxicating beverages during polling hours.

Locations of 16 polling places within Sedalia and 30 in the county were listed in Sunday's Democrat-Capital. Polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Tax Statements Mailing Is Near

Sedalians get their first look at the effects of the $3-million sewer bond issue on their personal assessments late this week when city tax statements begin to arrive.

Mrs. Frank Hugelmann, city collector, said Monday that preparations for mailing of the statements are nearly complete and they are expected to go in to the mails Thursday.

The sewer bond issue boosted the city tax levy by 35 cents per $100 valuation making the total assessment now $1.85.

County tax statements are scheduled for mailing later this month.

M. Walker Found Dead In His Car

Local Businessman Takes Own Life Following Illness

Morris Walker, 51, owner of Walker's Clothing Store, 109 West Main, took his life Sunday while parked in his automobile just off of the old Dresden road and just inside of the old city sanitary disposal grounds near Dresden. His body was found about 7:30 a.m. Monday morning.

Walker, who has been in poor health for several months, left his home, 421 West Sixth Street, about 7 p.m. Sunday in his 1957 Rambler stationwagon. Mrs. Walker notified the police and the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and his deputies started a search of some areas, which they thought Walker might have driven to, but were unable to find any trace of the automobile during the night.

The car was spotted about 7:30 o'clock Monday morning by Jody Reine, 1003 Royal Blvd., an independent lime hauler, who was passing the scene. Reine noticed the car and could see someone in it. He drove along side and honked the horn on his truck and when he received no response, he returned to the Menefee quarry a short distance away, and they sent some men to investigate, then radioed the Menefee office which in turn notified the sheriff's office.

Walker apparently had driven to the spot Sunday night, attached a vacuum cleaner hose to the exhaust pipe, then put it through a window of the car, the open space being closed with the use of some rags. The body was in a rear seat of the car when found.

The body was taken to the Ewing Funeral Home and later to the McLaughlin Chapel.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, who accompanied Sheriff Fairfax to the scene, said he found two notes in the billfold belonging to Walker addressed to the family. The contents were not made public.

Walker was born in Sedalia Dec. 14, 1912, the son of Mrs. Sarah Walker, and the late Samuel Walker. He was reared and educated in Sedalia.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Dena Harris Walker, and two children, Barry 12, and Shelley, 10, all of the home, 421 West Sixth Street. Also his mother, who resides at 500 West Fifth, three brothers, Harold of Pasadena, Texas, Max and Henry of Marshall.

He attended Broadway Grade School and was graduated from Martha Letts High School. He later attended Central Business College.

Mr. Walker was married to Miss Dena Harris, Kansas City, Jan. 7, 1945, in Kansas City. He was associated in business with his father at Walker Clothing, which he continued to operate after the death of his father, until two years ago, when he retired because of ill health.

The deceased was a veteran of World War II, and served 18 months in the United States Army. He was a member of the American Legion, Granite Masonic Lodge, Temple Beth El, and served two terms as president of Queen City Lodge, B'nai B'rith.

The body is at McLaughlin's Chapel, where services will be at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. Rabbi Abraham Meth, Kansas City, will officiate.

Palbearers will be: Isadore Kanter, Harold Silberstein, Abe Rosenthal, Abe Silverman, Harold Greer, Richard Goodheart. Burial will be in Hebrew Union Cemetery.

OBITUARIES

Elizabeth J. Hayden (California)

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Hayden, 34, California, Mo., was killed instantly in an automobile accident at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, about five miles south of California.

According to the Highway Patrol report, Mrs. Hayden was driving a 1964 Ford north on the highway when the car hit loose gravel, skidded to the left, went out of control and skidded into the ditch, broadside. The car turned over, pinning the driver under the wreckage. Seat belts were installed in the car, but were not in use at the time of the accident, a spokesman for the patrol said.

Mrs. Hayden was born June 6, 1930, in Kansas City, daughter of Raymond and Mayme Treadwell Griffith.

Mock Election At S-C Gives LBJ Victory

The casting of ballots of students at Smith-Cotton high school as a result of publishing the ballot in the Tiger Tales newspaper last week, was completed at the high school Friday. Release of the results was held up until today.

Don Lamm a high school instructor said the completion of the voting was late Friday evening and the "official" count was conducted under the proper supervision of two Democratic students and two Republican students with both a Republican faculty member and a Democratic faculty member present.

There were approximately 700 newspapers given to the students and of this number 230 ballots were cast, half from the Junior high school and half from the senior high school. The results indicated a Democratic trend with Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert Humphrey receiving 70 per cent of the vote and Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller, Republicans, receiving about 25 per cent while about 5 per cent of the ballots failed to cast a vote for either the Democratic or Republican presidential candidates.

The count on the balloting released on the Friday voting was 163 votes for Johnson-Humphrey and 57 votes for Goldwater and Miller.

Lamm also said the State and local races were running almost identically with the National ticket with the exception of a couple of local Democratic candidates, who carried a slight margin, percentages were said to be 40 Republican and 60 for the Democrats.

Today an election was being conducted for the Senior Classes only with the use of regularly ballots, and conducted the same as a regular election. The first class to vote gave an indication very close to the "mock" balloting of Friday, with the Democrats receiving about 70 per cent and Republicans approximately 25 per cent and about 5 per cent not voting the top of the tickets.

Knox, Jerry Howard, Everett D. Rutherford and Louis Rutherford.

Burial was in the Crown Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Covey

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Knob Noster Christian Church for Mrs. Mary Covey, 82, Knob Noster, who was found dead at her home about 10:30 a.m. Saturday. The Rev. Don R. Downes officiated.

GOP Rally Winds Up Local Drive

Pettis County Republicans met in their final county wide rally Saturday night with a covered dish dinner at the Heber Hunt School. Miss Hazel Palmer, county chairman, presided.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Marvin L. Sackschewsky, pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Miss Palmer introduced members of a panel which discussed proposed "Medicare" legislation. Dr. Elmer Van Dyke was the leader with J. W. Gerdts, Miss Rita Hamlin, Mrs. John Zulauf and Terry Feig as other members of the panel.

Dr. Van Dyke is a native Pettis County man who has recently returned to Sedalia where he is engaged in his profession. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Dyke of Smithton - Sedalia - community are his parents.

Dr. Van Dyke made the statement that while "Medicare" is not a visible campaign issue all indications point to the fact it will be high on the agenda of Congress opening in January and could well be given consideration as part of the present campaign issues.

The discussion opened by Rita Hamlin posing the question, "What does the term 'Medicare' actually mean?"

Dr. Van Dyke answered, "Medicare" is a term which has been applied to a program designed to provide medical care for the aged; people over 65 years. It is scheduled to be financed by Social Security taxes. This plan has been introduced in Congress under the name of the King - Anderson bill.

Mrs. Zulauf asked, "Why is there so much controversy about the bill?"

Dr. Van Dyke replied, "The question is, not, whether the aged should receive medical assistance, but, how the assistance should be given. Everyone is in agreement to provide some means of caring for these people who have medical problems which constitute an expense which they are unable to pay. The question is, 'What is the most reasonable, the most practical and the most economical way to render this service to these people?'"

Mr. Gerdts asked, "Is there now any law in existence which could provide medical care for aged people?"

Dr. Van Dyke stated, "Yes. In addition to referral centers over the country such as Missouri has at the University of Missouri Medical Center there is a plan (law) which was passed in 1960 which provides payment for medical care for all people over 65 who establish a need for the assistance. This law is known as the Kerr-Mills bill. This law has not received a great deal of publicity because of an attempt by the proponents of the King - Anderson bill to prevent the general public from realizing that benefits now are available. In spite of the lack of publicity, the medical benefits of the law have been utilized by large groups of people and it now encompasses 95 per cent of those over 65."

Terry Feig asked, "What would be the cost of the proposed medical care?"

Dr. Van Dyke replied, "It is impossible to accurately estimate the cost of such a government controlled program. It has been estimated to run from 1½ to 3 million dollars the first year, requiring graduated increases in Social Security taxes to support the program that in the not too far distant future could run as high as 20 per cent of every individual's income."

The beginning increase will amount to a 100 per cent increase in payroll taxes. A comparison is that government medicine used in England's program now costs five times the original estimate. It would cost 35 billion dollars to finance the proposed program for those currently eligible and the Social Security has no funds to launch the program."

Question: "What benefits are provided for under the existing Kerr-Mills law as compared to the proposed King - Anderson bill?"

Dr. Van Dyke: "Patients receiving care under the present Kerr-Mills plan have practically unlimited medical care plus drugs and out patient service if needed. This also includes certain parts of the physician's fee. There are no limitations on this service, usually depending on the recommendation of the person's physician. Under the proposed K-A bill only persons receiving Social Security would be eligible, and there are long and involved stipulations with three basic plans offered: 1. 45 days hospitalization expenses, but no physician fee allowed. 2. 90 days hospitalization, with the patient paying $10 for the first nine days; in case of one day hospitalization the patient pays the first $20. 3. A 120 day hospitalization plan with the pa-

One Way To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco lawyer Jake Ehrlich was summoned for jury duty last week.

"I've always wanted to serve on a jury," he wrote the jury commissioner, Bill Lowry, "especially in a case I am trying."

Presumably, Ehrlich was excused. He is a prominent attorney paying a proportionate larger amount. Under the K-M law already available patients can choose their own physician and usually the hospital, while under the proposed K-A bill in many instances an agency of the federal government would make the choices.

John Owen was the next speaker and followed with a further discussion of "care for the aged," stating "that the GOP is suffering at the hands of its opponents who are charging that the Republicans would ignore the basic needs of the elderly. That this is one of the cruelest of the misrepresentations by Democrats, since the Republican party is actually offering the more responsible approach."

Arthur Hoffman was next to speak and he emphasized the inconsistencies of the Democrat candidates saying: "First we will look at LBJ who said that Senator Goldwater is 'trigger happy' because he (Goldwater) advocated field commanders have control of 'tactical' nuclear weapons in the field. In 1962 the Democrat President granted this authority to General Norstad. I ask you why was it right then for the Democrat President and wrong now for the Republican candidate to advocate that which we now learn is actually only a concurrence with what the administration had authorized."

Both Owen and Hoffman are local high school debaters and were warmly received and enthusiastically applauded.

Miss Palmer introduced the local candidates: Otis M. Thomas seeking the office of representative to the state legislature; Raymond Kahrs, candidate for judge of the eastern district; Judge C. M. Purchase, seeking re-election as judge of the western district; Henry M. Keeler, candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney; Ralph Hamlin, candidate for the office of sheriff; and Carl J. Meyer, candidate for the office of assessor.

Thanks To Barry, Campaign Was a Dream for Democrats

By J. A. DEAR

LOS ANGELES — Thanks to Barry Goldwater this has been a dream campaign for the Democrats.

The middle of the road is where the votes are, and Barry is the only political prospector in memory who walked away from the mother lode voluntarily. The problem facing the Democrats was simple: to make sure he didn't walk back.

Pinning the label "radical" on Sen. Goldwater was Hubert Humphrey's inspiration. Back in September he told President Johnson that this was their best tactical bet. "How?" the president asked. Sen. Humphrey rose, stood before an imaginary podium in the oval room of the White House, and began his attack. The president was critical.

Then he rose to demonstrate his point. For more than two hours the president and Sen. Humphrey made their dry runs. That was when the Democratic campaign took shape.

It has been amazingly successful. The "radical" label has stuck, and all the signs suggest that Sen. Goldwater will lose this election by an awesome margin.

Though the campaign has been a dream for the Democratic professionals, it has become a nightmare to everybody else. A shameless appeal to racism and a shocking attempt to blacken the president's character marked the Republican effort. The Democrats have hardly deigned to discuss issues, and the fact that they haven't had to doesn't excuse this failure.

The dialogue between the two parties and their candidates has been just about as comprehensible as David Dubinsky's English. In New York he enjoined his happy followers to cast a "Why ti wote for uboit haych umpree." (Translation: Vital vote for Hubert H. Humphrey.) Incidentally, ha taoto-coo pel-lee catstst means about the same thing in the language of the Nez Perce Indians, and we heard that one too.

The hapless voter can't relieve his earache by travelling across the beautiful land. Perhaps that's what saves the candidates, for the land is beautiful: mighty cities, golden valleys, waterless mountains. And all linked together by flashing jets that annihilate time, distance, even ancient sectional rivalries.

Curiously, the land itself seems to be more inspiring and exalting for Johnson and Humphrey than it is for Goldwater and Miller.

The campaign trail has afforded brief glimpses of the president at his best, never at his worst. At his best he is a great leader of men, at his worst a vulgarian. (He once proposed to build a statue of God.)

But the campaign trail has not been as kind to Sen. Goldwater. At his best he's a nice guy, at his worst a foil for kooks. All too often in this campaign he has revealed himself as a patsy for the far right.

His running mate, Rep. William Miller, hasn't been much help. Miller's assignment was to drive the president "nuts," and he hasn't. Of course, earlier this year Miller privately advised that the nomination of Goldwater "will set the Republican party back 20 years," and his private description of Goldwater today is unprintable.

Sen. Humphrey, easily the best speaker on the circuit, glories in campaigning. His major fault as a speaker is that he can't stop. At one airport in Kansas he ended his oration only when he received a note: "The fog is closing in."

But he can be eloquent. Here, in part, is what he said at the University of Washington (Seattle), speaking without text or notes.

"I don't intend to come to a university and only be a politician—I come here as a teacher. 'Peace is not for the wishing. You don't get it because Barry Goldwater says to the Russians 'drop dead.' He cannot even make the Republicans do that."

"... Everybody may not be fully content with the decisions that the government is making. Sometimes I am not. . . . But let me say that I surely could not be content with a government that just made decisions on the basis of impulse, on the basis of some kind of jingoism that says 'the world is wrong and we are right, and we are going to tell you what to do, and if you don't do it, have a little bomb on us.'"

"... We believe in a strong defense structure. It is a shield to protect us. And then we reach around that shield with mind and hand and try to see if we can't reason with the world. . . . The radiologist protects himself with a shield. . . . O bring to the body the healing of radioactivity. . . ."

"Peace is a process," said John Kennedy, and he was right. Every peacemaker has known this. It is only men of little faith who are afraid to work for peace. . . ."

"So I appeal to the young, who have everything to live for. I appeal to those whose future is yet to be, to try to get a government that will give you a future. Anybody can start a war. . . . But it takes some understanding, it takes some conviction, it takes a sense of reason, it takes a decent attitude about people, it takes judgment and it requires statesmanship, real statesmanship, to find the way to peace."

"And I tell you that the only reason I am in this campaign is because I believe this. And I believe that you have got to

To The VOTERS of PETTIS COUNTY:

As the November 3rd election draws near, I know I will not be able to see each one of you to ask for your vote and support because of the time required to take care of the duties of my office, and because of my disabilities.

I hope all of you will understand this and realize I have had to confine myself to attendance at gatherings and meetings during this campaign.

I have worked hard to try to be an assessor of which you, the people of Pettis County, can be proud. Long hours have been spent to try to prevent the State Tax Commission from raising the valuation of Pettis County property.

I hope my record in office will merit your confidence, vote and support.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter who is ten years of age came home in tears last week. The teacher announced that all students who made perfect scores on a test would be given a special treat.

I was stunned to learn that the perfect scorers were served ice cream and cake in the presence of those who did not make perfect scores.

I say this was downright cruel and should not have been permitted. What do you say?—INDIGNANT MOTHER.

Dear Indignant: Incentives are effective spurs. But the teacher should not have given the perfect scorers party treats in the presence of those who failed to make the grade. Such favoritism triggers understandable hurt and resentment.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print my letter. You will be doing a vast service to thousands of commissioned salesmen.

I work in a large and well-known furniture store. I've spent as long as two hours with a customer showing her every imaginable type of furniture. I advise, counsel, suggest, inform and in general work my heart out. Naturally when I am tied up I can't approach other potential customers—many of whom know what they want and could give me an immediate sale.

This is what gets my goat:

An expectant teen-ager who would WANT to remain in high school throughout her pregnancy is a pretty strange duck to begin with. She is thumbing her nose at society and saying, "So what?" The high school administration which permits her to remain in school condones her behavior.

Protracted Nightmare Ends

Did you get a little weary of all that campaign oratory?

Did you hear more and enjoy it less?

Did you become more confused instead of better informed?

Aren't you glad the nightmare of sound and fury is ended — except on tv tonight!

Whatever else it has done, this campaign has demonstrated beyond doubt that no one—repeat, no one—can come up with sparkling new material hour after hour, day after day, week after week, month after month, speech after speech.

It also has shown that anyone—repeat anyone—is likely to become tiresome if overexposed.

The candidates reached deeper and deeper into the barrel for what the Madison Avenue boys call "grabbers" — new gimmicks, new headlines, new pitches for votes. The barrel became depleted.

Wouldn't it be wonderful, if, by mutual agreement, the campaign period could be cut in half in 1968?

But who would have to mutually agree?

The very ones who love to campaign, that's who.

So don't get your hopes up.

Now, what was it the friendly candidate was saying about the other friendly candidate? Oh, no — not THAT again!

Don't Hide Your Light

If you have a bright idea, tell somebody. Suggestions in this country totalled 16 million dollars last year from ideas given to employees by the men and women on the job.

A few examples prove how simple some of them were. An engineer suggested a washer to improve an I.B.M. machine; a punch card operator suggested that used cards be sold as scrap instead of throwing them away; a watchman in a state hospital reported a fire hazard in plans for the new wing after they had been approved by the architects and engineers.

Not everyone gets paid directly for his idea, but it is estimated that suggestions have saved the government alone $64 million while the agencies paid out only $2 million.

The president of a large corporation said: "In this highly competitive business period, a suggestion system is one of the most effective means of producing a better product and reducing operating expenses."

So don't smother your ideas. Tell them to the boss!

Washington Merry-Go-Round

LBJ Deeply Sincere Advocating Unity

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In Jacksonville, Fla., the other day I watched President Johnson talk to around 40,000 people jam-packed into Hemming Park. Some bobbed insulting Goldwater banners under his nose. Some carried crudely crayoned Bobby Kennedy signs saying, "We wanted RFK for veep." And out beyond the signs, a vast sea of children squealed and squirmed.

Few in the crowd paid much attention to the words of the tired man, his face deep lined, his voice getting hoarse trying to tell them about the problems of unity and peace.

"I have watched presidential campaigns from that of Woodrow Wilson to that of Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy," he said, "but none of these men tried to split our country wide open, none of these men preached hate."

"What I know you want is a bipartisan foreign policy where Democrats and Republicans work together, as Arthur Vandenberg did with Harry Truman and as Lyndon Johnson did with Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Very few people in that milling, giggling crowd, nor even among the distinguished politicians behind the president, realized the full significance of what he said. They did not know how loyally he had followed that policy as a senator.

When I got back to Washington, however, I looked up the correspondence regarding a hot argument I had with Lyndon after the disastrous summit conference in Paris in May, 1960.

I had written from Paris as the summit conference collapsed, telling the then Senate majority leader that "I was shocked when I saw your statement unequivocally endorsing Eisenhower for his failures to Paris. . . . He bumbled so badly that if he were a commander in the field he would have been removed and sent home immediately."

Guest Editorials

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL: Flat Tires in Rio. — It is now clear that the Brazilians show less reverence for the automobile than Americans and are less willing to coddle highway offenders. Vastly improved traffic conditions in Rio de Janeiro are the proof. Like most American cities, Rio was nearly paralyzed with traffic, a condition aggravated by scofflaws and car owners no less thoughtless than their brethren in the U.S.

The Rio police and traffic authorities saw the remedy as simply vigorous and imaginative law enforcement. Police in American cities have seen the remedy similarly, but in Brazil, police began letting air out of tires on cars illegally parked. A car once impounded was free for two months. Other enforcement was equally strict. Traffic conditions improved immediately.

Protests from the citizenry were great, just as they would be in Providence were policemen to flatten tires on cars illegally parked. A parking ticket is one thing, but to be penalized with flattened tires? The question runs immediately into a thicket of constitutional rights, not least being the right of the American motorist to obstruct traffic illegally without fear of too painful a penalty.

Overfeeding Pets

Sometimes nothing exceeds like success. For many years the American Humane Society has waged relentless war against so called humans who starve, beat, abandon and maltreat animals. For those whose mistreatment stemmed from ignorance, they have stressed good and adequate food for animals.

Today animal food is big business and high-pressure newspaper, radio and television advertising continually hammers home the theme of feed, feed, feed your pet.

So today the society finds that humane-minded people are guilty of a new cruelty toward animals—overfeeding. They give Fido and Tabby so much food and coddling that, like some husbands, they become flabby, less active and die younger.

The society advises pet owners to get professional advice from veterinarians as to the proper weights and diets for their pets, and then stick to them.

LBJ's Bipartisanship

To this letter, Lyndon replied in part: "I have two courses that I could follow: One is to launch an attack upon President Eisenhower for the mistakes that have been made. But I do not see how this makes sense either politically or from the standpoint of the best interests of my country. . . . Such an attack is one likely to divide the nation and to lead to further mistakes which could be fatal."

"The second course is to try to keep the country as united as possible and to try to act in such a way that mistakes will be held to a minimum between now and January."

"History, of course, will pass judgment upon the adequacy or inadequacy of the Eisenhower administration. But the judgment of history has very little to do with the perilous realities of the present."

"There is one thought constantly in the back of my mind," continued Sen. Johnson. "When this country gets into trouble, it is not the president who is in a jam, but the nation that is in a jam. If I could get the nation out of that jam by lambasting Eisenhower, I would do so. But much as I desire a Democratic victory, I still go to bed every night with a prayer that the president's hand will be strengthened and that somehow we can unite the nation and face up to the decisions that must be made."

"I do not have to endorse the man to recognize the peculiar character of the office. Neither do I have to tear down the office because the man has made mistakes."

So wrote, four years ago, the man who is now president. The letter was a personal one; and hitherto I have not published it or referred to it. However, listening to the tired president's earnest plea for unity, with those insulting Goldwater signs bobbing under his nose, and with children squealing in the background, it seemed to me the letter should now be made known to others.

Most Unique Campaign Comes to End

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a national sigh of relief one of the most unpleasant, uninteresting, and unlightening presidential campaigns in history ends today. It was less a campaign than a shouting match.

Still, it was unique in this generation. In every election since 1940 the Democratic and Republican candidates represented only different shades of the middle.

Once President Franklin D.

Roosevelt's first two administrations had established the principle of the welfare state — government responsibility for the general welfare — neither party's candidates thereafter suggested undoing it.

The questions were how to continue, faster or slower. For instance, under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, as under Presidents Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy, Social Security benefits were either broadened or increased.

This year both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater envisioned the America Utopia. "The Great Society," Johnson called it. Goldwater called it "freedom."

But their attitudes on achieving Utopia were complete opposites, not only toward the role of government but the presidency itself.

It was this contrast in Johnson-Goldwater attitudes that became one of the two main points in the campaign for the candidates, skipping over details, left the voters blank on how they'd achieve what they said they would.

Johnson wants more government responsibility for the general welfare, not less. This means bigger government, more programs. Goldwater wants the opposite.

Thus Johnson would enlarge the power and responsibilities of the presidency. Goldwater would diminish them. Thus each staked his chances on the belief, or the hope, that a majority of Americans felt as he did.

It was the first time since the early days of the New Deal that voters were confronted with such a clear choice between truly opposite philosophies of government.

If the two candidates had shown enough concern for the intelligence of the voters to spell out their differences specifically, this would have been one of the most instructive campaigns of the century.

It was the opposite because the candidates chose to make it so. They kept it almost on an "I-see-the-cat" level with their platitudes and clichés.

What made the campaign particularly boring was that this difference in attitudes, even though one of the two main points in the campaign, was not something that unfolded as the campaign progressed. It was clear, plain and thoroughly known before the campaign ever began.

So all they said added hardly any enlightenment on this score. In most elections the difference in the views of the candidates toward government and the presidency might have been enough for the voters to make a decision.

But in this one, and it was the other main point of the campaign, the voters had to decide which of the two men would have better judgment not only in the obvious but the unpredictable responsibilities of the presidency.

The two men realized this early and spent much of their time deriding each other's reliability while insisting upon their own. This is what turned the campaign into a shouting match.

Between them, the two men bathed in banalities that would have been more appropriate in a Tammany Hall district than a presidential race.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

OFFICIALS TO CHECK TREATMENT CENTERS IN OTHER STATES

Between now and the first of the year (no definite date has been set) a delegation representing the Joint Interim Legislative Committee on State Hospitals will tour intensive treatment facilities either in Pennsylvania or Washington, D.C.

The purpose of the tour is to get a background on how effective such centers have been in light of the commencing of a similar program in Missouri. Appropriations were made by the last legislature for setting up centers in Kansas City, St. Louis and Columbia.

The primary objective of these centers is, as their name implies, to provide adequate, but early and rapid treatment of mental disorders. It's been said that a great many more patients can be released early under this program than that of existing psychiatric endeavors.

The Interim Committee will be checking on, among other things, the effectiveness of similar programs in other states and what results Missouri might expect.

Since the General Assembly adjourned some 16 months ago, this committee has toured every mental institution in Missouri. Committee members heard a variety of complaints, ranging from low pay to laxity in security.

Several weeks ago, the committee met to hear complaints from a group of employees at the State Hospital in Fulton. Among the complaints were grossly unfair pay scales and an increasing number of escaping patients.

The latter, some felt, was due to a great laxity in security measures.

Sen. Don Owens, R-Gerald, a member of the Interim Committee, remarked after the hearings that he felt security measures were not as lax as the employees contended. And, Owens indicated that the committee probably wouldn't take any action on the matter.

So far this year over 90 patients have escaped from the Fulton hospital. But many feel that by reducing overt security the patients are more at ease in their surroundings.

As far as the pay scale complaint is concerned, the committee apparently is in complete sympathy with the employees. Currently there are three pay scales for state mental institutions: urban, suburban and rural.

Owens indicated that the committee is giving a great deal of thought to this issue and probably will recommend changes in January. The change most likely be in reducing the scale to two, eliminating the rural portion.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION ANSWERS ITS CRITICS

Recently when a metropolitan daily newspaper took out after the Missouri State Highway Commission, the reaction of the commission appeared to be adoption of a "wait and see" attitude to determine the accuracy of the charges.

Apparently Chief Engineer M. J. Snider waited as long as he could because within just a few days after the series terminated, Snider took to the speaker's rostrum to refute the allegations.

The gist of the charges was that the Highway Department had somewhat short-changed residents of metropolitan St. Louis on the rate of money returned to the area in comparison to the amount given by them to the state.

Snider noted that the newspaper's charge of not enough money being spent on metropolitan highways frequently is turned around by rural residents who feel similarly about their area.

"I can answer that by saying that the policy of the State Highway Commission — and it is a very sound policy — is to carry on a balanced state highway program for all categories of state highways. . . ."

Such a balanced program, Snider related, is essential to "allow a free flow of commerce industry, tourism, the shipment of agricultural products and all of the other functions making up our motorized society."

He added: "A network of superhighways in St. Louis, for instance, would be next to worthless to the rest of the people of Missouri — and most St. Louisans, too — if there was not a good highway system of roads radiating into and out of the city from every part of the state. . . ."

"By the same token, a rural area network of highways would be of limited value to Missourians if good roads did not exist in St. Louis and other urban areas. . . ."

Rights Commission Reports To Little Hoover Committee

The Missouri Commission on Human Rights has taken its case for more money and additional staff directly to the Little Hoover Commission which is investigating means of providing more economical state government.

Peter C. Robertson, the executive director of the rights office, once again has taken issue with the fact that some cities have Human Rights staffs composed of more members than the Missouri state agency and their budgets are larger.

Although the commission's budget is relatively small, its current appropriation is over two and a half times that of the amount used initially to launch the office. For 1958-59 the commission was given $9,000 on which to operate. Its current budget is for $48,058 for the 1963-65 biennium.

Things Happened Quickly As Soviets Ousted Nikita

EDITOR'S NOTE — Three weeks ago today Nikita Khrushchev was a big man in the world. He confidently flashed a grin as he talked with three cosmonauts in orbit. Then things began to happen. Here an AP specialist in Communist affairs pieces together the story of how Khrushchev fell and brings into focus the things that tripped him.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

Hopie him from power.

How was Khrushchev dethroned? A combination of the military brass and conservative Communists — using lessons learned from Khrushchev—was behind the upheaval.

Why was Khrushchev dethroned? Apparently he lost the support of the Communist Party Central Committee. Soviet communism had been rocked by monumental failures — much of them due to the system and the built-in bureaucracy — under a Khrushchev who had struggled to balance dogma with practicality.

In the Khrushchev era, the Soviet party and government were humiliated by the Cuban missile crisis; by agricultural failures requiring a turn to capitalist farmers to feed the Soviet people, and by a clear challenge from Red China to the Kremlin's world Communist leadership.

Khrushchev was not present Tuesday evening, Sept. 29, at a Moscow reception for visiting President Sukarno of Indonesia. Khrushchev did not know that his proteges, Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin — soon to take over his jobs — spent much of the evening off by themselves in earnest, private talk.

Khrushchev had not been too interested in paying homage to Sukarno, a man who had implicitly criticized his policies while seeking Soviet aid. In fact, Khrushchev was leaving for a vacation at his hideout at Gagra on the Black Sea.

By all odds, it should have been safe enough for him to leave. He had a formidable machine in the Central Committee. In the seven years since he ousted the Stalinist stalwarts from the party, Khrushchev had replaced about 75 per cent of all party secretaries around the country.

Many times before he had been able to turn his back on men in Moscow whom he considered his own proteges. Nothing important was in the offing except preparation of a welcome for a three-man space team which was going to orbit the earth.

There was no Central Committee meeting scheduled until the mid-November date Khrushchev himself, as first party secretary, had planned to take up the vexing problem of Red China's challenge.

When Khrushchev greeted the orbiting astronauts by radio he was his old bubbly self. That was Monday, Oct. 12. He promised the spacemen he would be on hand to give them a gala reception in Moscow. He seemed fully confident he would be there.

Much of what happened to Khrushchev must remain in the realm of educated speculation. But there are deadly parallels in the history of Soviet politics: A suddenly called Central Committee meeting; a speech denouncing the current dictator; the military brass wielding a balance of power; and, ultimately, de-Khrushchevization, as there had been de-Stalinization under his rule.

Khrushchev himself laid down the pattern in 1957. He enlisted the aid of Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov to summon a sudden meeting of the Central Committee — and paid his debt of gratitude to the old war hero by disgracing and retiring him.

Khrushchev set the precedent that the Central Committee could have the last word — even over the Presidium of the party, successor to the Politburo, a body that was never overruled.

The plot against Khrushchev may have been in existence a long time. Evidently from the moment Khrushchev left Moscow Sept. 30 well oiled machinery went into action, masterminded by a junta of powerful military figures and party Presidium members.

The story of 1957 and the anti-party group was repeated. Quietly, from all parts of the Soviet Union, Central Committee members flew into Moscow. They arrived from farflung points around the world, abandoning diplomatic stations in response to an urgent summons.

There was plenty of time to talk with them. The plotters could use to good advantage a widespread resentment of Khrushchev's obvious favoritisms — his appointment of relatives and friends to juicy assignments at home and abroad, his tendency to live high, his one-man decisions, his tendency to try, despite lack of full dictatorial authority, to run a one-man show.

The plotters played heavily on his many failures at home — in agriculture; in the shakeups and failures of the economy; in the rise of youthful and intellectual rebellion against party structures. Such things could threaten the party's authority.

They could play heavily on Khrushchev's foreign policy contributions to the splintering of communism around the world. They could point to the loss of a Kremlin grip on a useful world conspiracy. They could point to loss of authority over the direction of the world Communist movement. They could point to mishandling of a quarrel with Red China.

Khrushchev appears to have been nicely tricked.

The timetable of Khrushchev's fall is obscure at times

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Picketing, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge...small, easy-to-take tablets...special sizes for children and adults.

but from available evidence this picture emerges:

Tuesday, Oct. 13: — Something seems out of whack. The spacemen land. Khrushchev does not talk with them by telephone as would be normal. One report has him at the Black Sea resort talking with a visiting French Cabinet official. Another report has it that Khrushchev received a telephone call at Gagra telling him a Central Committee meeting had been called. However and wherever he may have received this information, Khrushchev probably was enraged. Nobody but the first secretary of the party could call such a meeting.

Wednesday, Oct. 14: — The Central Committee is in session. As Khrushchev had done in 1946 at the 20th Party Congress, this time there is another secret speech. The speaker is the dour, ascetic party theoretician Mikhail Suslov, voicing a long indictment of Khrushchev's leadership. Khrushchev defends himself in an impassioned three-hour speech, but his Central Committee support has melted away. He is outvoted.

Thursday, Oct. 15: — Kremlin leaders meet with a Cuban delegation, but there is no sign of Khrushchev. That night the Supreme Soviet (parliament) Presidium, with Mikoyan in the chair, divests Khrushchev "at his own request" of duties as premier. Khrushchev's portrait is removed from a place of honor near the Kremlin.

Friday, Oct. 16: — Just after midnight comes the announcement that the Central Committee and the Supreme Soviet Presidium "granted N.S. Khrushchev's request to be relieved of his duties because of his advanced age and deteriorating health."

— But at 70 Khrushchev had appeared fairly rugged.

Saturday, Oct. 17: — The press makes it obvious Khrushchev was forced out. Charges begin to appear: Hare-brained scheming, bragging, phrase-mongering, one-man decisions, violating the collective leadership principle.

Now, new confusion reigns in the Communist world. Khrushchev's principal tormentors, the Red Chinese, applaud his fall but otherwise remain aloof, waiting to judge what the new regime might stand for.

Around the world, Communists reeling with shock, demand explanations. In itself this is a mark of the Khrushchev decade. Communists before had always accepted Soviet upheavals without question. The reaction this time betokens loosening of the Kremlin grip on world revolution.

When mighty fall in the Communist world, they fall hard. Soon, Communists began to accept explanations. Khrushchev was reported assigned to a four-room apartment in Moscow on a pension of $1,100 a month and there was bitter irony in it. The same apartment building housed V.M. Molotov and Marshal Zhukov, whom Khrushchev had disgraced.

Now de-Khrushchevization would set in. Khrushchev would be watched so there would be no comeback. He would gradually be pictured to the public as a bumbling, uncouth dictator who wrecked the Soviet economy at home and the Communist movement and Soviet image abroad.

The catalogue of sins is long, as was the catalogue of Stalin's sins after Khrushchev took over.

Publicly, the most important accusations concern Soviet humiliation in the Cuban missile crisis, embarrassment at agricultural failures and the strong challenge from Red China. But probably most important is the sin of treading on the wrong toes.

Only two weeks before he was deposed, Khrushchev was pictured publicly as ready to give top priority to consumer industry. This was more than heresy, it was a one-man revolution. For all the years of the Soviet Union, emphasis had been on heavy industry which builds world and military power, with the consumer industry taking what was left. The Khrushchev notion implied cutting back military spending and the brass would not like it.

Almost everything that has one wrong with the Soviet Union and world communism is likely to be blamed on Khrushchev in a general re-education of a Soviet public with whom he had been all too popular.

But many of the things that happened under Khrushchev probably would have happened anyway. The developments seemed to come from causes inherent in the Soviet system.

The new regime may try to reverse many of Khrushchev's policies. But momentum already created in the U.S.S.R. has built up heavy demand among the Soviet population for a larger share of Soviet riches.

FOR STRONG LEADERSHIP...

STUART SYMINGTON for UNITED STATES SENATOR

LYNDON B. JOHNSON for PRESIDENT

A team that gets things done, the Democratic administration has been characterized by action tempered with wisdom, enthusiasm seasoned by experience and strength used with reason and restraint. The United States is now the strongest, most prosperous, most progressive nation in the history of nations...let us continue.

WARREN E. HEARNES for GOVERNOR

STRONG LEADERSHIP IN WASHINGTON

When Senator Symington of Missouri speaks, people in Washington listen.

After a successful career in private business, he entered full-time government service in 1945, and served as chairman of the Surplus Property Board, Assistant Secretary of War for Air, Secretary of the Air Force, Chairman of National Security Resources Board and Administrator for Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

He was approved by the senate for high office 6 times without one dissenting voice, Democrat or Republican. He was awarded the medal of Merit in 1947, and the Distinguished Service Medal in 1962.

In 1952, Stuart Symington was elected to the United States Senate, where he has served with real distinction for 12 years. He is a member of several powerful committees, including the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Senator Stuart Symington gives Missouri a strong and respected voice in the United States Senate. Let's keep him there.

STRONG LEADERSHIP IN JEFFERSON CITY

Warren E. Hearnes, at age 41, has had 14 years' experience in state government as a state representative, House Majority Leader and Secretary of State.

His opponent, at age 68, has had no experience whatever in state government.

Warren Hearnes was floor manager in the House for all the progressive mental health measures passed from 1957 to 1961. He was principal author of Amendment 4, which allows municipalities to issue bonds for industrial development. As a legislator he helped sponsor a majority of measures resulting in better public school education, including the Teacher's Retirement System—considered one of the best in the country.

Mr. Hearnes is a graduate of West Point and the University of Missouri Law School. He has been a practicing lawyer.

Because of his experience, Warren Hearnes is Missouri's qualified candidate — qualified to lead this team of leaders into our state government and keep Missouri moving.

Lawn Care

There are some things in November you can do to improve your lawn. A light application of a quickly available form of nitrogen fertilizer often will prolong the green color of the grass into the winter. The main purpose of this practice is to have an attractive lawn as long as possible. Use 1½ pounds (2 pints) of ammonium nitrate or 1 pound (3 cups) of urea over each 1,000 square feet early in November.

It is advisable to keep the grass mowed until it stops growing so that at the end of the season it will measure about 2 inches tall. At this length grass survives the winter with far less susceptibility to diseases, winter killing and smothering than grass which enters and passes the winter season at three inches or longer.

The lawn soil should be moist before going into the winter season to prevent soil dryness during the early spring growing season. If the soil is dry, it should be watered before it freezes.

Power lawn equipment should be prepared for winter storage. Remove all gasoline from tank and carburetor, drain old crankcase oil and add new, and thoroughly clean and oil according to the manufacturer's directions.

Walnut Hulls For Fertilizer
Recently we have had several inquiries relative to: The value of walnut hulls as fertilizers and the harmful affects of their use.

The material seemingly involved is really the "husks" and not "hulls." Husks are commonly referred to as hulls. Technically, the hull is the hard material which encloses the kernel or "meat." So, the hulling of walnuts generally refers to removing the husks. Thus, the comments below pertain to husks.

The University of Missouri does not recommend walnut husks for fertilizer or mulching. They do have a little fertilizing value. However, if applied at a heavy enough rate to make any real contribution to soil fertility, the toxic effect is great.

All walnut products such as husks, hulls, sawdust, bark, limbs, roots, etc., contain a poisonous alkaloid and tannic acid. These are known to be exceedingly harmful to certain plants, tomatoes in particular. This is probably true for many garden crops and flowers also. We all know blue grass grows well under walnut trees but livestock do not eat it.

Apparently, the spreading of husks may be at a light enough rate not to be noticeably harmful. But at such a light rate, the fertilizing value is negligible.

Tested Bull Sale

The big day is Wednesday, Nov. 11, for the Second Missouri All-Breed Performance Tested Bull Sale. It will be held in the Livestock Judging Pavilion, Columbia, starting at 12:30 p.m.

There are 102 head of bulls offered for sale: 34 Angus, 25 Hereford, 37 Polled Hereford, 5 Shorthorn and 1 Charolais.

A herd of beef cattle can be improved with good herd sires. But how do you know when you've found a good one?

What you can see and what the records show will help. When you find one that looks right and the records are right you can buy with more assurance.

The bulls to be sold on Nov. 11 have met certain required standards in conformation and performance. A study of each bull and his record will help all of us to realize that this is a good group of cattle—one that will justify our time to attend the sale.

Good 'cow' men evaluate their herds carefully and purchase bulls that will improve it. We think that you will find what you need at this sale.

This is the second such sale to be held in Missouri. It is a cooperative effort between breeders and the Department of Animal Husbandry of the College of Agriculture.

The bulls offered are growthy and rugged, the kind that can make improvement in all commercial herds and in many purebred herds. These bulls have met certain predetermined standards in order to be eligible for the sale. All of the bulls have been in the Missouri on-farm testing program supervised by the University of Missouri Extension Division or tested at the University of Missouri Bull Testing Station.

The three most important standards that these bulls meet are as follows: an average daily gain of 2.25 lbs. on 140 days of official test; grade B- or better according to the University of Missouri Extension Division grading system and have an adjusted weight of 825 lbs. at 365 days of age. In addition some of the bulls will have loin eye estimates as measured by ultrasonic sound and some will have feed efficiency records.

A large number of bulls were screened and sifted in order to secure this offering.

The bulls will be in breeding condition and of an age that should appeal to the most discriminating buyer. They will have been tested for TB, leptospirosis and will have had a semen test within 90 days of the sale. However, it is recommended that the bull be isolated with a steer or two for 30 days after you get him home.

Sale catalogs are available at the Extension Center.

Leaking Ponds
Persons with leaking farm ponds are advised that few—if any—good ponds cannot be made to hold water if the proper steps to seal are taken and a little time is allowed.

A variety of materials can be used for sealing purposes. The most common commercial product is Bentonite, a volcanic clay which is spread over the leaking surface and worked three to four inches into it. Thorough packing is then required. Bentonite and metaphosphates—which may also be used—are expensive and require considerable work and care to use properly.

Most Missouri soils have sufficient clay to seal properly if puddled, or if sand or gravel pockets are covered with six inches to one foot of clay and then puddled.

Puddling can be done easily by a bunch of hogs wallowing in the pond. After the pond holds and fills with water, the hogs should be removed from the pond basin and kept out.

Puddling can also be done with salting or feeding cattle in the pond basin. A farm tractor can be used effectively while the basin is wet if enough trips are taken and the basin is not puddled too high above the water mark.

Thomason Attacks Apathy By Voters

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Churches and communities must combat voter apathy with all their resources if democracy is to work says Don Thomason, Missouri Commissioner of Agriculture.

Thomason, speaking to the political science club at Southwestern Louisiana University Sunday, said:

"Far too many Americans ride the ship of state as if it were a luxury liner. Once they secure a stateroom, they could care less about the course being charted for them and have only a vague idea about destination."

Voter apathy, he said, is one of the most distressing problems he has found in nearly four years of public life.

Farm Census Forms Soon To Come Out

WASHINGTON — The first questionnaires for the 1964 Census of Agriculture will be put in the mail shortly for delivery to rural boxholders, according to officials of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census.

Distribution of the questionnaires has been timed to precede visits to farm and ranch homes by enumerators of the Census Bureau. These visits will begin on Nov. 9.

Enumerator visits will proceed to the following schedule: Nov. 9 — In New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, and the citrus areas of Florida and Texas.

Nov. 10 — Puerto Rico.

Nov. 16 — Maryland Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, and Kansas.

Nov. 23 — The remaining States except Alaska where the census was taken last month.

These dates are timed to follow closely after the harvest when records of 1964 farming operations are readily available and their meaning fresh in the minds of farm and ranch operators. The purpose of mailing out forms well ahead of enumerators visits is to allow farmers and ranchers time to consult their business records before answering census questions.

Enumerators will make their calls with the following aims: (1) to collect the forms (2) to help farmers complete answers to unanswered questions and (3) to review the forms to be certain they are completely filled out.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather needed, up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy.

Data gathered includes the number and size of farms, number of persons living on farms, acreage and harvest of crops, a livestock and poultry inventory, information on farm equipment, improvements, income of farm families and some important production expenditures.

Mock Military Maneuver Into Its Fifth Day

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP) — The prime minister of Oroland visited his forces today—the fifth day of Gold Fire I, a combat exercise involving 20,000 troops.

The capital of the mythical Oroland is Houston, Mo. The prime minister's schedule took him to Marshallfield and Hartville, Mo., returning to Houston at noon.

Arrayed against Oroland are the Sioux forces, which engaged Sunday in increasing guerilla attacks.

The attacks failed to deter the Ozark troops, transported into the Ft. Leonard Wood maneuver area by U. S. Strike Command aircraft.

Air activity was stepped up because of photo reconnaissance flights and fighter cover.

The bulk of defending ground action fell to engineering units of the 1st Infantry Division from Ft. Riley, Kan. The division, at the same time, was constructing additional dirt landing strips and maintaining those in heavy use.

The exercise is to test Air Force proposals for ground combat support. It runs through Nov. 13.

Loot Rural Home, While Man Is Away

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Thieves stole every piece of furniture in the house of Raymond Blair of rural Joplin while he was away for three days. He valued the furniture at $3,000.

Blair discovered the loss Halloween night.

S. H. Miller, Route 4, Marshall, has averaged 200.2 bushels an acre on a field he had entered in the statewide corn growing contest sponsored by the Missouri Farmers Association. Big yields are rare this year because of the dry weather. The crop was planted on May 5. He alternated 4 rows of 2180 and 3232 and had 28,900 stalks to the acre. Miller applied 5 pounds of aldrin per acre for a soil insecticide treatment. He plowed down 82 pounds of actual nitrogen and 200 pounds of 0-16-32 per acre. When the corn was about 12 inches high he side dressed the crop with anhydrous ammonia at the rate of 70 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Mrs. Durley Farm Census Crew Leader

Mrs. James E. (Dorothy) Durley, 1812 West Fourth, has been appointed crew leader in Pettis County for the taking of the 1964 Census of Agriculture scheduled in November.

In announcing plans for the taking of the agricultural census, Mrs. Durley said the job will be done in three stages.

First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

Shortly after Nov. 12, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. This will give farm and ranch operators, who are required by law to fill out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may have had difficulties with. Enumerators visits are scheduled to begin in this county on Nov. 16. Enumerators will take about three weeks to complete their work, the crew leader estimates.

Dog With Valve In Heart Dies

FORT WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Waggy, the dog with an artificial heart valve, is dead.

The body of the two-year-old mongrel was found Sunday by its owner, Adair Rogers, in a wooded area behind his home. Rogers, an engineer and research associate at the University of Pennsylvania, had designed the heart valve.

He believed that if the dog had lived a year, the valve might have been used in operations on humans. Waggy underwent an operation for implantation of the valve May 19.

Rogers surmised his pet died of natural causes.

Daily Record

Police Reports

Destruction of fixed property was incidental Saturday night, Halloween, by vandals, but extensive damage was reported from automobiles being sprayed with paint. The exact number of cars damaged was not definitely known but 10 automobiles were reported to police to have been targets of the canned spray paint artists.

Members of the Sedalia Citizens Band Radio Club who were working with the police on patrolling the city, noted five automobiles which had black paint on them in the South Woodlawn area and Rainbow Addition. They radioed police headquarters to make the report.

Miss Helen Sittin, 707 West Third, reported her 1957 Chevrolet car had blue paint sprayed on it.

Bob Wilken, 410 East Fourth, reported his 1964 Pontiac convertible had been sprayed with black paint.

Mrs. Florence Carlson, 814½ South Massachusetts, reported someone had broken several eggs inside her car.

A car parked in the 100 block of South Ohio had white paint sprayed on it, according to radio club members, who saw the vehicle. The owner did not make a report.

Melvin Brockman, 901 East Broadway, reported the left rear fender of his 1961 Mercury was sprayed.

Other vandalism reported included the marking up of a building in the 1200 block on West 16th Street with crayon and vulgar words written on it with crayon. The report was made by Mrs. A. F. Harlan, owner of the building.

A wagon wheel was reported rolled into the yard at 1913 Fairview Court.

Garbage cans were hauled from yards and left in the street at Second and State Fair Blvd.

Byron Barbour, 520 Wilkerson, reported to police an aluminum chaise lounge stolen from the front porch of his home.

Police received a report of trash being thrown in the front yard at 112 East Morgan street. Those involved had disappeared when officers arrived.

C. W. Cusick, 1308 East 11th, reported his 1959 Studebaker pickup truck stolen from his home Saturday night. It was later recovered in the backyard of a residence at 14th and Center.

Firecrackers were reported being "set off" in an alley behind 400 Dal-Whi-Mo Court at 1:38 Sunday morning. The parties responsible had gone when officers arrived.

A report came from 711 East Third at 4 a.m. Sunday, where old clothes and hedge apples had been thrown in the yard. The vandals also left a dummy lying on an automobile.

Accidents

Apprehension of a hit-and-run driver at the junction of Highway 50 and 65 resulted from a call from a member of the Sedalia Citizens Band Radio Club about 12:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

Involved in the accident was a 1956 Chevrolet sedan driven by Robert L. Winfrey.

17, Route 3, Sedalia, who was headed south on Highway 65. The other vehicle was a 1956 Chevrolet stationwagon driven by Shirley Ann Wren, 32, of 650 Watt, Slater.

According to Winfrey, he had pulled out of the Wheel Inn drive-in and was heading south on the inside lane when the other vehicle was alleged to have struck his car.

When the stationwagon failed to stop, the radio operators notified the police station and a police car with Officers Ray Rieder and Herbert Mayfield stopped the Wren car at Third and Harrison.

Mrs. Wren was released on a $125 bond to appear in police court Wednesday morning.

Miss Annalee Wilborn, 1007 East 16th, a passenger in the Winfrey car, was examined at the Bothwell Hospital by Dr. Joseph Maunders for a whiplash injury to her neck.

James J. Lees, 503 East Chestnut, a passenger in the stationwagon was not injured.

Considerable damage resulted to two automobiles, and one person was slightly injured in an accident at 32nd Street and Clinton Road about 2:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Involved was a 1959 Chevrolet sedan driven southwest on Clinton Road by Willis W. Young, 19, 1801 East 13th Street. A 1956 Dodge sedan driven by Miss Juanita Green, Route 1, Sedalia, was also headed southwest following the Young automobile.

According to the police report, Miss Green's car struck the rear of the Young vehicle, doing considerable damage to the rear of the Chevrolet and the front end of the Dodge.

Miss Green received a cut across the bridge of her nose.

Fires In City

The fire companies, Sunday, made four runs to grass fires. No damage resulted at any.

The first alarm was at the rear of the Fitzwilliams Motor Co., Main and Harrison at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Twelve minutes later they were called to 2232 Second Street Terrace. At 2:19 a run was made to 13th and Summit and at 3 o'clock to 1816 South Brown.

Four grass fire alarms kept Pettis County firemen busy Sunday, but while considerable acreage was burned over there was little damage reported.

Two fires in the morning spread from burning trash. The first was at 10:25 a.m. at the Charles Mathews residence, 1700 South Murray, just outside the city limits. The second at 11:45 a.m. burned over several acres near the Southern Hills addition, south of Sedalia on Route C, and spread into a pasture owned by Ernest Biggs.

A fire which started along the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks west of Sedalia about 1:28 p.m. burned off 15 to 20 acres on the Lloyd Arnett farm, Route 3. Some damage was reported to fence posts touched by the fire.

A grass and timber fire on the Homer Greer farm, south of Smithton, spread on to the Cloyd Merk farm before county firemen and the Smithton Fire Department could bring it under control. The county department received the alarm at 8:45 p.m. Cause of the blaze was unknown.

Mrs. Wren was released on a $125 bond to appear in police court Wednesday morning.

Value of a Pretty Girl Paid Off For Playboy King

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Never underestimate the value of a pretty girl.

Hugh M. Hefner didn't. As a result, he spiraled a bankroll of $600 of his own money and $6,000 in borrowed capital into the $30-million Playboy empire.

Hefner, a man with a flair for the sensational, got his start toward the big time in 1953 when he quit his $60-a-week magazine writing job to start his own publication, Playboy.

The magazine, with its pictures of only slightly adorned models and avant garde fiction and articles, achieved a circulation of 60,000 in its first issue and 175,000 a year later. The current circulation is more than 2.5 million.

From that start, the Playboy enterprises, closely held by Hefner and associates, have become big business.

Sales for the publishing end of Playboy totaled $14.6 million in the fiscal year ended last June 30, resulting in pretax profits of $2.3 million.

The second most widely known of Hefner's enterprises is Playboy Clubs International, clubs which feature entertainment and scantily costumed hostesses and waitresses.

These clubs rang up gross sales of $11.4 million in the year ended Aug. 31, 1963, the latest period for which figures are available.

But the magazine and the clubs are only a part of the Hefner empire. Other enterprises include Playboy Press for book publishing; Playboy Music Corp., which provides talent for night clubs and sponsors jazz concerts; Playboy Models, a modeling agency operation, a resort hotel in Jamaica, and a lecture bureau.

The company's product business last year brought in $743,156 on such items as Playboy matches, playing cards, cuff links, tie tacks, bracelets, sweaters and shirts.

Not every venture of Playboy has been a success, however. One failure was the short-lived magazine, Show Business Illustrated, which cost the company $2 million in 1961 and 1962.

3 Companions Of Slain Girl Are Questioned

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three teen-agers were questioned until late Sunday afternoon about the shooting of 16-year-old Theresa Ann Ward who is in critical condition with a head wound.

The three, who doubled-dated with Miss Ward Saturday night when the shooting occurred, blamed another motorist for the shooting. Police were looking for him.

Miss Ward is the daughter James W. Thompson, 17, and another couple, Jane Lee Bechtel, 16, and Ronald Yeamans, 19. All live in Kansas suburbs of Kansas City.

The youths told police they got into an argument with another motorist, a Negro man, when the man fired a shot and Miss

Ropes Stray Deer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rope-trick artist Monte Montana, cruising along the San Diego Freeway Sunday, came across a wild deer loose on the highway.

Also at the scene was Ernest E. Wolfe, who said: "Out of this Cadillac pulling a horse trailer, stepped this guy all dressed up in a Western costume with a lasso in his hand. Boy, was I surprised."

The deer, too, was surprised. Ward slumped over in her seat.

They told police at first that the shooting occurred in Kansas then said it happened in downtown Kansas City, Mo. All three were given tests for gunpowder residue on their hands.

Miss Ward was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ward of Mission, Kan. Her father is a vice president of the Seidlitz Paint Co.

Perfect Teams Meet

Upcoming Big Eight Game No Place for Weak Fans

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas and Nebraska, the only Big Eight football teams with perfect conference records, are headed for another big game at Lawrence, Kan., Saturday. If the league race so far is any indication, it will be no place for heart patients.

Out of 17 conference games to date, 12 have been decided by a touchdown and a field goal, or less. Six of these were decided by four points or less. Average score of the 12 close ones was 12-7.

Both Kansas and Nebraska made it four out of four in league play Saturday, but it wasn't easy.

Nebraska fought a brutal and scoreless defensive battle with Missouri for three quarters before pulling out a 9-0 victory before a record Lincoln crowd of 48,875. Kansas escaped with a 7-0 victory over fired-up Kan. State at Manhattan when Gale Sayers broke a 77-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter.

With the league's season background of cliff-hangers it would be folly to say the Kan-Nebraska result will decide the title.

But the stakes will be as high as the pressure. Nebraska has a 14-game victory string, longest among major teams, and the Huskers are ranked fifth in the nation.

After this one, the Huskers will have Oklahoma State and Oklahoma still to play. The Jayhawks will have Colorado and Missouri left.

Oklahoma stayed in the title picture by edging Colorado 14-11 at Boulder. The Sooners stand 2-1 OSU 3-1 and Missouri 2-2.

Hard-luck Iowa State dropped a last minute 9-7 decision to Army at West Point and Oklahoma State was swamped 61-15 at Tulsa.

The run by Sayers boosted him past the Big Eight career rushing record of 2,562 yards held by Dave Hoppmann, Iowa State '60-'62. Sayers now has 2,605 with three games left.

Kent McCloughan made the key offensive plays for Nebraska and scored the only TD on a 37-yard pass play from Bob Churchich. On defense, it was halfback Ted Vactor and end Langston Coleman, who caught Missouri's Gary Lane for the safety that broke a scoreless tie.

Oklahoma won with Lance Rentzel's 40-yard run and Larry Shields' 57-yard punt return. A pass interference penalty on a fourth down desperation Army pass in the last minute set up the touchdown that beat Iowa State.

Tulsa's Jerry Rhyme hit 35 of 43 passes for 488 yards and four touchdowns against OSU in the best day of his career.

Colorado plays at Missouri and Iowa State at Oklahoma in other league games Saturday. Outside the league, K-State plays at Arizona and Wichita at Oklahoma State.

Both Dan Devine, Missouri coach, and Doug Weaver, K-State coach, had high praise for the all-out efforts of their squads in defeat.

"This was the best effort ever given by any team I've ever been associated with," Devine said. He added after viewing the films that he couldn't understand how the Tigers could do so many things well and still lose the game.

Their defeat was a matter of inches. They were inches shy of a first down once at the Husker 21. Early Lane just missed going 54 yards for a touchdown and send him out of bounds at the Husker 17.

Weekend Soccer Play On Local Fields

Soccer action at Centennial Park Sunday resulted in three teams being tied for first place in the midwest class. S&M, Lions and Adco will settle the tie in the next two weeks' games.

In the first game Adco downed Pepsi Cola 4-0 with Park Denny scoring one in each half and James Parker and Larry Newbill scoring one in the second half.

In the second game S&M and Lions battled to a tie. S&M scored first on Zachary Patton's 60-foot kick from center in the first half. Lions came back in the second to tie the game on Howard Estill's dribbling from the left, 30 feet out.

In the bantam class at Liberty Park, Dr. Pepper downed Adco 3-0. The first half was scoreless then Dr. Pepper scored on Richard Parker's penalty kick. Doug Smith sent one over the goal's head 40 feet from the right.

In the second contest, Third National beat Jaycees 3-2. Paul Klover scored on a penalty kick and Eddie Lyle made a corner kick that hit a Jaycee player and bounced into the goal.

In the second half Mark Hewitt kicked a 30-foot shot for Jaycees and Paul Klover made a hard shot from center, 40 feet out. With less than one minute to go, Clayton Fidler headed one for a long kick from David Woodward for an assist goal.

Devine said Nebraska is much stronger than last year on defense but a little weaker on the attack than the 1963 league champions.

Weaver said he was extremely proud of the way his boys played. He added that the capacity 21,300 Homecoming crowd helped them.

End Bill Matan, switched from left to right defensive end to stop KU's shortside plays, drew praise from both coaches. So did middle guard Bob Mitts.

Kansas fullback Ron Oelschlaeger made 96 yards in 22 trips and his faking on the touchdown play, plus some fine blocking, helped Sayers get a shot at it.

Sayers did the rest. He jerked free from Matan, who had a grip on his ankle, got by Jim Grechus who almost tripped him, then faked three other men out of position and burst into the clear.

The play was a check - off, called by quarterback Bob Skahan at the scrimmage line. Sayers bucked over left tackle on a trap and Mike Johnson helped with a block on the linebacker.

The Jayhawks suffered a severe blow when Dick Pratt, 264-pound offensive guard, hurt his ankle. He'll probably miss the rest of the season.

Tipton Defeats Versailles In Friday's Game

Tipton put together a 13-point second quarter and then held on to down the Versailles Tigers 13 to 6 in the game played at Tipton last Friday night.

The Tigers scored first on a sustained drive from the opening kick-off, Dale Tankersley crashed in from the three to put Versailles ahead 6-0. Tipton bounced back in the second quarter when they scored two touchdowns. The first one coming on a four yarder by Carl Hibdon and the second coming on a two yard plunge by J. E. Robertson.

Versailles threatened several times but foul trouble kept the Tigers from scoring. Gary Seriville was the top gainer for Versailles as he ground out 89 yards on 14 trips.

The game's top gainer was Hibdon with 99 yards in 16 carries. The Tigers outrushed Tipton 205 to 178 but could only score once.

Next week the Tigers will be looking for their first conference win against the School of the Osage at Osage.

Notre Dame Now Said Top Target

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Scratch the Pretzel Bowl people from a long list of bird-dogs courting Notre Dame's bowl-shy college football powerhouse — and count just about everyone else in.

The Pretzel Bowl is history, Albright having twisted Moravian 40-0 Saturday in the 14th renewal at Reading, Pa., but the big doings aren't too far off. Unbeaten Notre Dame has become the top target for a post-season commitment despite the long-standing no-bowl policy at South Bend.

The rags-to-riches Irish, runner-up to Ohio State in last week's Associated Press poll, shipwrecked Navy 40-0 Saturday while the Buckeyes barely held off Iowa 21-19.

As a result, Coach Ara Parseghian's explosive team, led by passer John Huarte, pass-catcher Jack Snow and a bruising defense, is challenging for its first national championship since 1949.

Notre Dame has indicated a willingness to decide the title in a post-season playoff similar to last year's Texas-Navy showdown. The Sugar Bowl committee, among others, is eager to arrange such a meeting. First, however, the Irish must get by Pitt (next Saturday), Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California.

Ohio State, dueling surprising Purdue for the Big Ten crown and a Rose Bowl berth, kept its slate clean by stopping Iowa star Gary Snook's bid for a tying two-point conversion in the final seconds. The Buckeyes and Notre Dame each have won six straight.

The Boilermakers knocked off defending champion Illinois 26-14, matching Ohio State's 4-0 conference record. Michigan, 3-1, stayed in the running with a 35-0 runaway over Northwestern. The Nov. 21 meeting of Ohio State and Michigan could decide the race.

Stanford's 10-8 upset of seventh-ranked Oregon — on Braden Beck's last-minute field goal — and Washington's 14-13 decision over Southern California put the other Rose Bowl spot up for grabs. Six Pacific Athletic Conference teams have a shot, with Oregon State the current leader at 2-0 after trimming Washington State 24-7.

Oregon was the only top ten representative to stumble but Nebraska, Texas and Louisiana State, Nos. 5, 6 and 9, had close calls.

The Cornhuskers, candidates for a return trip to the Orange Bowl, beat Missouri 9-0 after being blanked for three periods.

Ernie Koy's second - period touchdown gave Texas a 7-0 verdict over lightly regarded Southern Methodist and kept the once-beaten Longhorns' South-west Conference title hopes alive.

Kirksville Beats Maryville 'Cats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kirksville State took a giant stride toward the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship Saturday by handing the Maryville State Bearcats their first loss of the season, 20-8.

A Maryville State homecoming crowd of 11,000 hopefully gathered to see what the 'Cats could do about extending their perfect streak but a stable of hard running Bulldog backs put a damper on things for the home folks.

Grinding out 249 yards rushing, Kirksville State scored touchdowns before the hosts could break the ice in the closing stages of the game.

Sharron Washington of the Bulldogs exploded off tackle in the second period and outran everyone for 54 yards for the first Kirksville score.

Moments later Kirksville drove again from mid-field and after Dave Martin's 24 yard aerial to Steve Acton put the ball on the Maryville 8. Washington ploughed off tackle again for his second score. Martin ran for 2 points after the first score but a run attempt failed after the second marker to leave it 14-0 Kirksville at the half.

Stymied with only 37 yards rushing, Maryville relied on the passing of Leo Pappas for 141 yards on 18 of 32 completions.

In the scoreless first period, Maryville drove to the Kirksville State 18 but fumbled and a 77 yard drive in the third period was stalled by a penalty at the Bulldog 3.

T. J. Jackson scored the last Kirksville touchdown on a 13 yard run before Maryville finally got on the board with a 23 yard TF pass from Pappas to Ed Maxwell and a Mickey Thompson run for the 2-point conversion.

Kirksville, now 3-0 in the NIAA is all alone in first place. Tied at 2-1 for second place are Maryville, Springfield State and Cape Girardeau State.

The MCAU race got a breather as most teams were engaged

Red Wings In 6-Game Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was the night after Halloween and ghosts were rattling all over the Detroit Olympia where the National Hockey League Red Wings extended their unbeaten streak to six games beating Toronto 4-2.

Two long-time adversaries, Dickie Moore of the Maple Leafs and Ted Lindsay of the Red Wings held a rather unfriendly reunion and Gordie Howe celebrated the occasion by rewriting another line in the NHL record book.

Lindsay, making a comeback after sitting out four seasons, and Moore, back after one year off the ice, didn't take long to renew acquaintances. They touched off a first-period explosion in which Lindsay drew two minors and a misconduct penalty and Moore got a minor and misconduct.

Pit Martin, who scored Detroit's first goal while killing a penalty, suffered the most serious injury of the night when he was cut by Leaf defenseman Carl Brewer in the third period. It took 40 stitches to close the wound in Martin's forehead.

Howe scored his 626th NHL goal tying the all-time record, including playoff games, of the retired Maurice Richard of Montreal.

in non-conference clashes. Graceland received a week off to prepare for this week's encounter with William Jewell in a key conference tilt.

The conference's record against outside foes was 4-1 with only Tarkio going down for the count.

William Jewell bounced back from a 2-game losing streak by spoiling the Lincoln homecoming celebration at Nebraska Wesleyan. The Cards handed the Nebraskans their first defeat of the season, 21-13.

Coach Volney Ashford's Missouri Valley forces handed their coach a victory for the 25th consecutive time on a homecoming occasion at the Marshall, Mo., school. The Vikings battered Millikin, Ill., 35-13.

Central Methodist, winless last season, brought its record this year to 4-3 with a 10-7 victory over Illinois College and Culver-Stockton won its first game of the year, 24-13 from Eureka.

Tarkio was swamped, 51-0, by Buena Vista, Iowa, College.

Independent teams found varying degrees of success. Lincoln rolled to its sixth victory in seven starts by crushing Central State, 44-6, and Wheaton, Ill., handed Washington its second defeat of the year, 23-14. Chadron, Neb., sailed past St. Mary of the Plains, 28-7.

Bills Only Undeclared Pro Ball Club

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
High above War Memorial Stadium in Buffalo, on the metal skeleton that eventually will provide extra seats, the ironworkers' union has draped a sign that says:

"Bring on the NFL."

Nobody's about to, but comparisons have been emerging in American Football League circles as the Bills remain the only undefeated team in either pro league.

"We wouldn't be embarrassed," said Coach Lou Saban, whose Bills whipped Houston 24-10 for their eighth victory. "The mark of a good team is one that can make mistakes and come back. We've been doing that."

The Bills came from behind again Sunday, overcoming a 10-7 lead with a 17-point fourth quarter as reserve quarterback Darryl Lamonia added his running ability to a ground-oriented attack led by veteran Cookie Gilchrist and rookie Bobby Smith.

The triumph opened the Bills' lead in the Eastern Division to 2½ games over the Boston Patriots, who are 5-2-1 after losing to the New York Jets 35-14. It also overshadowed some outstanding one-man performances put on at San Diego and Kansas City.

Lance Alworth was the key man for San Diego, grabbing touchdown passes of 76 and 47 yards and latching on to eight in all for 203 yards in a 31-17 victory over Oakland that kept the Chargers in first place in the Western sector with a 5-2-1 record.

Kelso Back In Contention For Horse Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kelso bounced back into the thick of contention for Horse-of-the-Year honors by becoming the world's richest horse last Saturday. The gallant 7-year-old gelding, considered by some early in the season to have passed his peak, became No. 1 on the money-winning list by romping home first in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct.

This upped the earnings of the pride of Mrs. Richard duPont's Bohemia Stable to $1,803,362 compared to $1,749,869 for the retired Round Table. His next meeting with Gun Bow in the Washington, D. C., International at Laurel Nov. 11 most likely will decide Horse-of-the-Year honors. Kelso has been Horse of the Year the last four seasons, but has yet to win the International.

In winning the Gold Cup for the fifth straight time Kelso finished 5½ lengths ahead of Roman Brother and set an American record of 3:19 1-5 for the two-mile route.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

1. Do you remember when I wore this uniform and was Chief of Police?
2. Do you remember my record as Chief of Police?
3. Do you remember that I have had as much, if not more professional training than any other law enforcement officer in Pettis County?
4. Do you remember that I placed officers at all busy school crossings to help your child reach school safely?
5. Do you remember that while these officers worked these crossings from 1958 until 1964, there was not a single serious accident to a school child while going to or returning home from school?
6. Do you remember when we closed the 200 block on Vermont during noon hour so that the Sacred Heart children wouldn't have to play on busy Third Street?
7. Do you remember the courtesy shown to you by the police department when I inaugurated the funeral escort service?
8. Do you remember the first storm warning in 1959 furnished by the police vehicles? Then through their efforts and the donations from various citizens, with matching funds from Civil Defense, we were able to get the present storm warning sirens?
9. Do you Mothers and Fathers remember the first year I was president of Little League in 1957, when there were 8 Major League teams and only a few minor league teams, and how you parents, my wife and I worked the next few years building this to 10 Major Leagues and 30 Minor League teams, how we financed it, put every boy in uniform, and arranged for daimonds for these boys to play on? It was a great program and I really enjoyed it.

This will probably be the last time I will ever run for public office, and I need your vote (regardless of your political belief) tomorrow, November 3. I promise you fair and impartial law enforcement.

Thanks,

Chiefs Seen Back Into AFL Contest

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Len Dawson is healthy again and the Kansas City Chiefs may be ready to climb back into the American Football League race providing they learn something from their victory over Denver Sunday.

The Chiefs had a 42-10 lead, Dawson had six scoring passes and the only question seemed to be the size of the score and Dawson's shot at the AFL record of seven TD passes in one game.

Then all of a sudden, Denver had 29 points in 5½ minutes, was a couple of yards from the go-ahead touchdown and the only question was whether the Chiefs would win at all. They did, 49-39, thanks to a big defensive play and some great last minute running by Abner Haynes.

"This should be an object lesson for our club," said Kansas City Coach Hank Stram. "We gave Denver four touchdowns—generated their own heat by our mistakes."

"It should make everyone realize there's no way you can be careless in pro football. You can feel secure only when the game is over."

Denver trailed only 42-39 after Jack Lee's two-point conversion pass to Al Denson with 10:07 left. With 3½ minutes left Denson was two yards from a touchdown on a pass play when Willie Mitchell of Kansas City hit Denson, spun him around, the ball squirted up into the air and linebacker Walt Corey grabbed it in the end zone and ran to the 18.

From there, the Chiefs moved to a touchdown. Haynes got nine on a screen pass with third down and seven, then ripped off successive runs of 12, 51 and seven yards the last for a touchdown with 36 seconds left.

The victory halted a three-game Chiefs losing streak which started when Denver upset them 33-27. Dawson was hurt in that game and missed almost all of the next two games with bruised ribs.

Kansas City stands 3-4 in the Western Division, two games back of San Diego, and Denver is 1-6. The Broncos were hurt badly by defensive injuries.

Extension Cord Role In Rocketry

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Included in the new $156-million Air Force Titan 3 complex at Cape Kennedy is a long, electrical extension cord with a big plug at one end.

Somebody has to plug the cord into a huge socket before a mighty Titan 3 rocket can blast off from its pad.

Lt. Don M. Spradlin, Air Force launching pad construction officer, grins about this extension cord rocketry.

"I get a big kick out of it. Seems incredible that an old-fashioned extension cord would play such a role in the space business," he said.

The cord and plug aren't the ordinary household types found around most housewife's ironing boards. They are a monstrous cable and a huge drum powered by a winch.

The Air Force said the cord saves a big chunk of money in wiring costs.

The new rocket launching complex is nearly finished and a Titan 3 rocket is scheduled for firing next spring.

Tall buildings and 250-foot high service towers sit unnaturally on islands built of shell and sand pumped up from the Banana River.

Building the complex in the middle of the Banana River wasn't the only startling move made by the Air Force.

The concept of putting a rocket together for space flights in buildings instead of on the pad is another.

Putting the control center on the third floor of the 23-story Vertical Integration Building—VIB—instead of a traditional blockhouse is another.

The Air Force calls its new program Integrate Transfer Launch—ITL. The theory looks so good the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is pat-this country which fulfill the requirements for launch sites,

Hearnes Sure But He Won't Forecast Edge

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Warren E. Hearnes says he is confident he will be elected governor of Missouri Tuesday and that more Missourians will vote in the election than in 1960.

Hearnes, the Democratic candidate, would not forecast the margin of victory he expects. He made the prediction in an interview over station KOMU-TV.

He told questioners he had no "idea about running for the Senate in 1968." Some Republican leaders have said Hearnes would spend part of his four years as governor campaigning for the Senate.

Hearnes, secretary of state, is opposed by Republican Ethan Shepley, former chancellor of Washington University in St. Louis.

Hearnes said if he is elected he will call a meeting of leaders of both houses of the state legislature to work with him on planning the budget.

"I'd like for us to be in pretty good agreement before the 1965 session starts in January," he said.

He also said unless the 1965 legislature fails to make at least a sincere effort to meet the Supreme Court decision of reapportionment that legislative candidates will have to run at large in 1966.

there is a limit to the number of launch complexes that can be turning its Merritt Island Apollo facilities after the Titan 3 complex.

Air Force Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier, deputy commander for manned systems, explains the new spaceship philosophy:

"If we continue to tie up launching facilities for weeks at a time for each payload, it will not be long before present facilities are saturated and more must be constructed.

"Since there are few areas in built."

The Air Force would bring a Titan 3 rocket into the VIB and install all the instruments, payload and equipment needed for a flight. The rocket would be mounted on a mobile launcher and taken to the firing pad seven miles away.

Four Titan 3 rockets can be assembled at once in the gigantic VIB.

Two launching pads are being constructed, each independent of the other.

Three launch control centers are located on the third floor of the VIB, with platforms for spectators to watch the firing three miles away.

Gone is the familiar equipment associated with a launching. No more periscopes, or rows of television sets. The control room is so bare of equipment that it seems austere.

Most of the monitoring instruments are in four rooms away from the control center.

The Titan 3C is the boaster the Air Force plans to use to orbit its manned orbiting laboratory.
